Wisdom From Animals?

Lesson Overview

We're finishing up our series on the book of Proverbs. Over the last few weeks we've learned how important wisdom is to us. Wisdom is good advice that helps us to make good choices. The Bible and our parents give us the wisdom we need to live a life that honors God. But did you know that animals can teach us about wisdom, too? They do and you know why? Because God created all the creatures and animals just like he created each one of us. God gives all of his creation the wisdom they need to fulfill his plan for them. In the book of Proverbs, Solomon highlights the wisdom of four creatures that can be helpful to us. The ant teaches us to plan for the future, the rock badger shows us how to stay safe in a dangerous world, the locust teaches us that we need friends, and the lizard reminds us that we have a bright future.

Classroom Agenda

2. (5 min) WARM UP: What's the coolest animal you've ever seen in a zoo or in a book? Describe why it was so cool to you. (Tip: God is so creative and it's fun to take notice of all that he has created. He has created the most beautiful flowers and the most majestic animals. And, he has created some of the oddest looking animals, too.)
3. (5 min) PREVIEW: Write out the Big Idea, Memory Verse, and Key Question on a whiteboard. Have the kids copy it down on Activity Page #1 (if applicable).

5. (2 min) RECAP: Read the Lesson Overview (see above).
6. (3 min) KQ: Answer the Key Question. (Answer: God gives wisdom to his creation. God has created everything. He created the sun, mountains, horses, fish and us. And, God has a purpose for everything he creates. So, God provides everything he creates with the wisdom they need to fulfill their purpose.)
 - Bonus Questions: Who gives the animals wisdom? Why do we need God's wisdom? 4-5th: Think of some other animals. What wisdom can we learn from them?
7. (5 min) EXPLORE: Read Hebrews 10:24-25. What are some good things you can do to honor God? How does going to church help us to live to honor God? (Answer: At home, you can obey your parents, share with your siblings, and do your chores. At school, you can help your teacher, be kind to friends, and do your homework. Going to church is important to learn more about God and to worship alongside other Christians. And, being around other Christians encourages us to live to honor God.)

- Tape the rock badger to the wall.
- Have kids line up single file and give each kid a tail and a piece of tape.

The Ant teaches us to prepare for the future

Ants are really small, and compared to humans they're not very strong. But ants know how to work hard. They know that winter will come eventually, so they start saving up food in the summer.

But why is this important to know as a kid? Because you should prepare for your future too! Some ways you can do that is by getting good grades, making good Christian friends, and learning how to make good choices.

Rock Badger teaches us how to be safe

Rock badgers might sound scary but they're actually small animals with short noses and no tail. They're not strong, in fact, they're really weak. But one thing rock badgers are really good at is staying safe. They live in little holes in the sides of cliffs to stay away from predators.

But why is this important for us to know as a kid? Because God wants us to seek safety, too. He wants us to avoid danger. So, as a kid, your safety isn't in hiding behind a rock. It's in obeying God and choosing good friends.

The Locust teaches us about strength in numbers

Locusts are basically just grasshoppers. So think about a grasshopper. Do you think that one little bug can do anything special all on it's own? It can't. But when there are a lot of locusts in one place, they can do a lot of damage.

But why is this important for us to know as a kid? Here's why. Locusts teach us that we can't do things all on our own. We need to be around people who help us to live to honor God. We need to go to church to be around other Christian kids and choose good friends to hang around with at school.

Now there's one last animal that has a lesson to teach us.

The Lizard teaches us about our bright future

Just like the rest of the animals in this lesson, there's nothing very special about lizards. In fact, lizards are slow and pretty easy to catch. But lizards can get through any crack in a building. So, they can find their way into a beautiful castle.

But why is this important for us to know as a kid? Well, as Christian kids, we crawl around here on earth like lowly lizards. But someday we'll end up in heaven – thanks to Jesus!
